Town Clock now Running.

The town clock has at last come back onto its job and is now running in fine shape, pealing forth the hours. Work was commenced on the clock last of the week by Vivian W. Hills and his assistant, Bert L. Hutchins and Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock she struck for the first time for several weeks.

The clock was found to be in bad shape, many of the working parts badly rusted and had it not been for the necessary loose joints with the lack of oil it would have "struck" long ago. The whole inside of the clock has been taken to pieces, cleaned and oiled and is now in fine shape.

It is understood that this is the first time it has been thoroughly cleaned since it began duty. Friday noon, November 9, 1894, twenty-one years ago, V. W. Hills and S. I. Millett were the members of the committee who went to Boston in September 1894 and selected the clock, which is one of the celebrated E. E. Howard & Co's. clocks. The money for the town clock was donated by popular subscription and among the contributors found in an account printed in the Advertiser at the time are: Mary E. Wolcott, Brooklyn, N. Y.; S. I. Millett, Kate H. Jones, Boston, Laura A. Sanborn, C. E. Holt, F. H. Noyes, C. N. Tubbs, L. F. Pike, C. B. Cummings & Sons, J. M. Cummings, The A. O. Noyes Co., George L. Beal, A. S. Kimball, C. A. Gunn, F. Q. Elliott, G. E. Wallace, Rochester, N. H., Mrs. C. L. Hathaway, W. R. Danforth, Don C. Seitz, C. P. Whitman, J. A. and J. F. Bolster, S. S. Stearns, A. F. Andrews, Merritt Welch, Freehold Howe, W. W. Whitmarsh, F. P. Stone, B. F. Bradbury, S. B. & S. Prince, Emma Smith, E. E. Lewis, C. W. Ryerson, E. H. Brown, E. J. Bangs, E. E. White, E. P. Smith, L. B. Andrews, C. F. Bidlon, A. J. Rowe, George P. Jones, George E. Tubbs, Jess S. Allard, Wm. C. Leavitt, C. S. Whitney, Harrison, Horace Cole, J. O. Crooker, Smiley Shoe Store, C. A. Stephens, J. L. Partridge, H. R. Denison, Boston, Irving Frost, E. W. Bartlett, A. H. Bodkin, M. W. Sampson, F. R. Taylor, Brooklyn, N. Y., B. B. Ramsworth & Co., Portland, A. W. Walker, Henry Tucker, Logansport, Ind., Mrs. J. C. Bulard, Cambridge, Mass.

The Norway selectmen request you to bring in all bills and claims against the town that may have been overlooked Monday, Jan. 24th. Please attend to this at once and oblige the town report makers.

Military Camp Sanitation.

Major Bial F. Bradbury, chief medical officer of the National Guard, State of Maine, speaks on the work of the medical corps before the members of the business and professional men's military class at Portland, Thursday afternoon, at 6 o'clock. Major Bradbury is considered one of the greatest experts in the country on military camp sanitation, as he was attached to one of the medical corps of the German army on the Russian front for less than a year ago. He was also with the U. S. Army at the big mobilization camp on the Texas border in Mexico. He is now attached to the Soldiers' Home at Togus.

Fred Davis played at the dance at Haskell's Hall at East Waterford, Saturday night, and stopped over Sunday with Noyell Andrews at Bisbetown.

Mrs. Dorothy Horro, who has been ill in bed with the grip for the past few weeks is gaining.

The committee in charge of the annual Masonic Ladies' Night composed of Louis I. Gilbert, Charles S. Akers and Frank Kimball met at Kimball's store, Tuesday evening to make arrangements for the annual event which is being planned for Friday evening, February 4.

Otto Schnuer, who recently suffered an ill turn, is convalescent.

Amy Hayden, who is attending Bates, spent Sunday with her grandmother, Mrs. Clara A. Hayden.

Mrs. Rowena Swan, who returned from Roxbury, Mass., Saturday, is ill with an attack of pleurisy. It was at first feared she had pneumonia.

Norway Hospital.

It is understood that there is a prospect of Norway having a small sized hospital in the near future. It has been rumored that one of the physicians may use several rooms at his residence in which to treat patients who could be better cared for there, than at their homes with the care of a nurse. The rooms would be equipped with the necessary furnishings of a hospital of its size.

Board of Trade Meeting.

Remember the Board of Trade meeting at the Municipal Court Room, next Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m., at which time there will be the annual election of officers, also the question of opening certain portions of the Lake for bathing.

Book Circle.

The ladies of the Universalist church will hold their January circle at Concert Hall, next Tuesday evening. An oyster scallop and baked bean supper will be served at 6:30, followed by a book social.

It is hoped everyone present will represent a good book, and the one guessing the largest number will be presented with a book.

The Smiley & Brown Fire.

Fire early Wednesday destroyed two wooden business buildings in the center of Caribou, causing a loss estimated at $25,000. The heaviest loss was on the stock of Smiley & Brown, dry goods dealers. The firemen were forced to fight the flames in a temperature of 20 degrees below zero and it was not until aid had arrived from nearby towns that the fire was brought under control. The fire caught in a barber shop and spread to the dry goods store of Smiley & Brown. The members of the firm are Thomas Smiley and Fred S. Brown, Norway men.

Parent-Teacher.

Do not forget the meeting for parents, teachers and all who are interested in our schools and children, this Friday evening, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, at the High School building. The program begins at 8 o'clock, followed by general discussion. Refreshments will be served, all free of charge.

One of the aims of the State Association of Parents and Teachers is to provide in every State for pensions for widows, whereby a widow can receive a pension from the State, in order to keep her home and support her children without being obliged to work out or put her children into institutions or other homes.

Mrs. Fred Hunt, who lives over L. I. Gilbert's market, fell down stairs recently and broke two ligaments in her hip and is under the care of a physician.

Members of Oxford Lodge, No. 18, F. and A. M., attended the funeral of George W. Cash of Oxford, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert J. Bruce and Mrs. John F. Swain are in Portland to attend the annual meeting of the Western Maine Branch of the Women's Missionary Board. The meeting is held Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Wm. F. Jones entertained the Barton Reading club, Thursday afternoon. A paper was read on the life of Laura E. Richards.

Jordan's orchestra of Portland has been engaged to furnish music at the Annual Clerks' ball. John H. Hazelton will be the prompter. Supper will be furnished by the Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church.

Mildred Holmes entertained ten members of her Sunday school class, Saturday afternoon. The afternoon was pleasantly passed by the young folks with games and dainty refreshments.

Edward K. Hayes of Emmett, Idaho is the guest of his sister, Mrs. James N. Favor.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. N. Packard spent the weekend with Mrs. Packard's sister, Mrs. William Hall at Mechanic Falls.

Samuel Moore of Gilead was in town, Monday, the guest of his son, Harold, who is ill.

Mrs. C. A. Richardson and daughter, Helen, spent Sunday in Auburn.

NORWAY MUNICIPAL COURT.

Wm. F. Jones, Judge.

J. N. Marshall whose case was continued to Saturday forenoon was discharged. The Lewiston Trust Co., witness for the state failed to appear and the respondent was discharged for lack of prosecution.

McKeen-Libby.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Libby, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Marion Florence to George Henry McKeen of South Paris. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert J. Bruce in the presence of the immediate family. The bride and groom were attended by two of the friends, Scott Palmer, who acted as best man and Alta Hall, as bride's maid. The bride was becomingly gowned in blue silk messaline, with white silk trimmings. The groom wore a suit of dark blue.

Mrs. McKeen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Libby of Norway and Mr. McKeen the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McKeen of South Paris.

After the ceremony a company of young people came to the Libby home with innumerable tin pans and spent a pleasant evening. The bride and groom were showered with an abundance of confetti and rice when they left for their home at East Oxford.

Veranda Club.

The Veranda Club met at the home of Mrs. Virgilya Murdoch, Thursday afternoon, Jan. 13, where plans were made for the coming fair which will be held in Modern Woodman Hall, Friday afternoon and evening, Jan. 28. There will be a candy table, variety table, bundle table, food table, apron table and lunch table. On this night will be given away the prizes which have been displayed in Z. L. Merchant's window, to the one holding the lucky number. Quits will also be on sale, as it is coming cold weather. Now will be a good chance to buy. Also one will be given to the one holding the lucky post-card.

The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Alta Sheen's, Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 26, Emma Swan, hostess.

Stockholders' Meeting.

A Stockholders' meeting was held at the banking rooms of the Norway National Bank, Monday, Jan. 11. The volume of business increased over the preceding year by several thousand dollars.

The trustees organized as follows:
Pres.—C. N. Tubbs.
Vice-Pres.—L. S. Billings.
Clerk and Cashier—H. D. Smith.
Directors—W. L. Gray, E. E. Andrews, H. B. Foster, F. W. Sanborn, H. D. Smith.

Thoughtless, No Doubt.

Residents of Lower Main street complain about the putting of loose paper on the "dump" in the rear of T. L. Heath's. The wind blows it onto the street and into the yards, and it looks ugly and is a nuisance. Don't do it. If loose paper is to be disposed of, weight it down so it will not blow away, and no one will then complain. Remember this and all will be well.

The Caduceus.

The January number of the Caduceus will soon be issued by the Norway High School. It will keep up the high standard of the former numbers by this school.

The editor-in-chief is A. R. Bartlett, '16; assistant, Katherine Jones, '17; associate editors, Beatrice Gammon, '16, Imogene Hunt, '16, literary; Francis Andrews, '16, Francis Hall, '16, athletics; G. Edgar Dunn, '16, Leona Sloan, '17, changes; Virginia Mixer, '17, Don Longley, '18, alumni.

The business manager is Shirley McKay, '16; assistant, Leslie Gibson, '17. This number is dedicated to the memory of Madeline R. Nevers.

H. J. Morton is seriously sick at his home in Belfast, Me., with stomach trouble and there is little hope of his recovery. At one time he lived here going to Chicago about 35 years ago and on retiring from business some few years ago has been living in Belmont and Belfast. He has relatives living in this vicinity.

The Norway selectmen are working on their report, so bring in your bills, if you have any, once. Get them by Monday the 24th sure.

We have a few more Norway Selectmen envelopes. The ones with five pictures on them. We sell them for 10 cents per bunch at this office. With printed return on them, 500 for $2.25.

There have been 58 births in Norway the past year—33 males, 25 females, 39 marriages, 51 deaths, 26 males, 25 females. The oldest person at time of death was 91 years, 3 months and 9 days, youngest 7 days. Average age at date of death, 58 years, 4 months and 14 days.

There will be a joint installation of Temple No. 45, Pythian Sisters, and Penn. Lodge No. 18, K. of P., at their hall, Thursday evening, Jan. 27. Refreshments served.

Ed Starns of Rumford spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Starns.

Capt. E. G. Schwartz, who recovered in a large degree from his recent illness is again confined to his room.

W. W. Hills was elected first vice president at the annual meeting of the Maine Association of Optometrists at their meeting at Congress Square hotel, Portland.

The Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors of the high school enjoyed a class ride to the Mothers' club house at Norway, Wednesday evening. The young ladies carried a box supper for two and a pleasant evening was enjoyed with games.

Sylvanus Porter Stearns.

Sylvanus Porter Stearns, a life long resident of Paris passed away at his late home on Pleasant street, Wednesday morning at four o'clock at the age of 84 years, 9 months and 19 days. Death was due to cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Porter was the son of William born Joanna (Porter) Stearns and was born in Paris, March 29, 1831, and was the sixth in a family of eight children. He was born on Stearn's Hill on the farm settled by his grandfather in 1792, where he lived until twenty years ago when he came to the village to live. He received his education in the public schools of Paris. For a number of years he served his town as selectman and has been for years a trustee of the South Paris Savings Bank.

In 1858 he was united in marriage to Isabella R. Partridge, daughter of Austin Partridge. Eight children were born to them, six of whom are living, Austin P. of Shawnee, Oklahoma, Henry K. of Hephorn, William C. of Stearns Hill, Mrs. E. C. Park and Mrs. E. S. Kilborn of Bethel. He is also survived by his widow and ten grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

In political affiliations Mr. Stearns was a republican and in religious associates, a Universalist. He was also a member of the Paris Grange. The funeral will be held at the Universalist church, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The officiating clergyman will be Rev. C. G. Miller. The remains will be placed in the tomb and burial will take place in the family lot at Stearns Hill.

Died in Dedham, Mass.
Eliza Adeline Smith, widow of Jonathan M. Smith, died Jan. 19, 1916, at her home in Dedham. She was the daughter of Otis N. and Adeline (Walker) Swift, and was born in South Paris, Feb. 24, 1840. She is survived by two brothers, Amasa E. of South Paris, Nelson O. of Portland, Oregon, and two daughters and a son.

The down train, Sunday afternoon, which arrives here at 5:08, was two hours late. A freight train preceded the passenger, and just above West Paris a wheel broke, causing the delay. A message was sent to South Paris and the branch train ran to the scene of the accident, and the passengers went around the freight train and were conveyed to Portland by the branch train, which was soon crowded, but served the purpose.

The Seneca Club has planned a treat for the music lovers of the vicinity by securing Margaret Abbott to furnish an evening's entertainment the last of February. Miss Abbott is now singing in New York, and works with some of the best singers, including James, Nordica and Cary. Miss Abbott has in years past been a frequent visitor to South Paris, and is a niece of Colonel F. E. Boothby of Portland. She has recently returned to New York from a Western trip with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

NO TROUBLE SINCE

Mrs. Walker's Statement is Most Convincing Evidence.

When Mrs. Walker endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills she told of having received complete relief. Now Mrs. Walker tells how years have passed without any return of kidney trouble. Results that last are results that count. Norway people should gain by Mrs. Walker's experience.

Mrs. Persis A. Walker, Cottage St., Norway, says: "I felt badly and all symptoms pointed to kidney disorders. As my kidneys were weak, I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Stone's Drug Store. In a very short time they improved the condition of my kidneys very much."

Over two years later, Mrs. Walker said: "My system has remained free from kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Walker had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Kidney Medicine
Dissolves Gravel Stones

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root sells well with us because it invariably produces good results in Kidney, Liver and Bladder troubles. We sold a dollar bottle to one of the inmates of our Soldiers' Home near here, and after using it he brought in about one dozen gravel stones some as large as a pea, which he had passed. He states that he obtained wonderful relief from the use of Swamp-Root.

WAR UPON PAIN!
Pain is a visitor to the home and usually it comes unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

Mervin H. Soister, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new."

SOUTH HARRISON
Mrs. Joseph Chaplin.
The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Hestilda Chaplin mourn her death which occurred at her home January 13th, after a lingering illness of several months. She went to the Maine General Hospital in October but was found to be suffering from an incurable disease.

She was born at Edes Falls, August 21, 1860 and was the daughter of the late John and Esther (Smith) Robinson. Mrs. Chaplin's whole life was a portrayal of the good and beautiful. Her character can be said to have been made up of beautiful, noble, womanly, christian virtues. When very young she was married to Joseph Chaplin, who has been a kind and devoted husband and stood by her during her painful illness and seen that every wish was fulfilled. She leaves five devoted sisters, Mrs. Chas. Sande of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Melvin Merrow, Mrs. Joseph Pitts and Mrs. Edward Jordan of Harrison and Mrs. Henry Maxfield of Edes Falls and two brothers, Chas. of Conway, N. H., and Delmore of Berlin, N. H. Also several nieces and nephews, who always found a friend and helpful adviser in their Aunt Till.

Funeral services were held at her late home, Sunday, January 16th, conducted by Rev. C. N. Davis, assisted by Mrs. Flora Ham of Bridgton, both of whom spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family. The hymn Abide with Me and the poem, Crossing the Bar, were read. The services were attended by many relatives and friends. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful and bore a silent tribute to love. Interment at Harrison village cemetery.

Shirley Harmon is sick with tonsillitis. Mary Lofeman of Bridgton spent Saturday and Sunday with her friend, Hazel Leitch.

Howard Randall spent several days the past week in Portland. Mrs. Frank Traflet is able to be up and around the house.

Annie Stevens is visiting her brothers, the Lakin Bros., and sister, Mrs. Clara Spaulding, in Portland.

HARRISON.

Lakeside Grange held its installation on Saturday evening. Refreshments were served and a literary program given after the installation. Mrs. C. E. Work and staff of officers from Highland Grange, Bridgton did the installing in a very able and pleasing manner. Quite a goodly number from Highland Grange and Crooked River Grange were present. Following are the new officers installed:

Master—Philip Chute.
Overseer—Walter Chute.
Lecturer—Mrs. Gertrude Smith.
Seward—Arthur Smith.
Chaplain—Mrs. Lizzie Howard.
Treasurer—Mrs. Lewis Grange.
Secretary—Mrs. Louise Briggs.
G. K.—Lewis Howard.

A Full Harvest

A good harvest comes to the farm which is in good condition. Soil is the most important part of a farm and should be kept in the best condition. This can only be done by restoring to it the plant food that growing crops take away.

BONE, BLOOD and MEAT Fertilizers are plant foods in their most natural forms. They feed the growing crops abundantly, enrich the soil and keep it fertile and in best condition for subsequent crops.

Fortunately, we anticipated the shortage in potash, and in all sections of New England, supplied fertilizers without potash, containing good percentages of England, supplied fertilizers without potash, containing good percentages of ammonia in the proper forms, as well as phosphoric acid. The results have been conclusively that satisfactory crops can be grown with Essex, for a time at least, on most soils without the application of potash. We offer Essex Fertilizers with confidence that they will yield a full harvest.

I used Essex Fertilizer without potash in the center of a large field planted to potatoes on 45 Potash Fertilizer, and this plot received just the same care as did the others. The results without potash are well-nigh unbelievable, as I secured an actual yield at the rate of 150 barrels of potatoes to the acre. These are facts which I can prove, the crop being harvested in the presence of witnesses. W. S. TAPLEY, Blaine, Me.

JUSTICE ALBERT M. SPEAR.

Justice Albert M. Spear was born in Madison, Me., March 17, 1852. His parents were Andrew P. and Alice P. (Moore) Spear. He graduated at Bates College in 1875 and the same year married Miss Helen Frances Andrews of Monmouth. He was a successful school teacher for several years prior to his graduation as principal of North Anson Academy for two years after. Choosing the law as a profession, he was admitted to the bar in 1878 and the next year opened an office in Hallowell, where he was in practice for six years, then removed to Gardiner, which he has since made his home. He did not take Judge Spear long after beginning the practice of his profession to rise to prominence. He soon acquired a thorough knowledge of legal principles and having rare tact and ability in the trial of cases, he became one of the most successful of jury lawyers in Maine. He was elected Representative to the Legislature in 1883 and 1884, Senator in 1890 and 1892. During his last term in that body, he was chosen its president. In 1898-99 he was Mayor of the city of Gardiner. He is a member of the Knights Templar of Maine and has served as Grand Commander.

In 1902 he was appointed a Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of this State and was re-appointed in 1909. By his legal learning and faithfulness in the performance of the duties of his great office, he has attained eminence on the bench. As I write these lines the memory of my service under him comes back to me and touches my heart. His consideration and kindness; his great ability; his learned, clear and impartial jury charges; his unvarnished care, that all should have a fair hearing; that the innocent should go free, and the guilty punished, has left their indelible impress on my mind, and stamps him in my view as a model judge, knowing no fear and courting no favor, and animated solely with the purpose of performing what he feels and believes to be right.

The Supreme Judicial Court of Maine is second to none, in any state of this Union. The people of Maine must take a just pride in their highest judicial tribunal. I have served under every one of the members of the court and have carefully noted their methods of administering justice. Doubtless mistakes have been made for no one human is without error, but if so, I do not know where or how, and I have come down out of the Temple of Justice with the greatest confidence in and the highest respect for, the Judges of our Supreme Court.

Interesting Lecture by Mrs. Woodbury.

On Sunday morning Mrs. Ida Voss Woodbury gave an interesting talk on the work of the American Missionary Association among the negroes of the South. In her opening remarks she briefly reviewed the early history of the colonies and the motives which led them to come to America. Many Africans were in the country years before the landing of the Mayflower, which proves the Americanism of the Indians. The next who came, came on a most urgent invitation, by the greed and selfishness of our forefathers, which brought about the slavery issues. She gave in brief the steps leading up to the Civil War, and the effect it had upon the life of the negroes. Since the war, she told of the work of the Association in educating the negro, giving him the opportunity to become self supporting and raising him from the condition into which he had been forced.

At seven o'clock the auditorium was filled for the stereopticon lecture, which was given by Mrs. Woodbury. The pictures included scenes in Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, California, North Carolina and Kentucky. The pictures were to show the work of the Association in educating the people in the remote districts, as well as in the towns, where no other means of education is available. Many of the pictures showed the early home in the form of a cabin, tepee, dug-out in hut, and showed the boys and girls in their pursuit of knowledge in the mission schools, and at last came their graduation from the institutions into usefulness in the world, and in contrast to the early homes were modern homes with the aspect of thrift. Mrs. Woodbury is an unusually enthusiastic and interesting speaker and held the closest attention of the audience. The pictures were fine and many of them she had taken herself.

OLD AND NEW WAY TO TREAT CATARRH

Breathing a Germ Killing Air Endorsed By Actual Results.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were drugs, sprays, lotions, etc. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of your throat and nasal cavities a germ killing, actually kill all germs and microbe. Its purpose is to cleanse the blood with the oxygen killing the germs in the blood, and restore health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been helped by Hyomei.

A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment. Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to the doubters, is the fact that Noyes Drug Co. has so much faith in Hyomei that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve.

Mr. Robert H. Norris, No. 1232 Henry St., North Berkeley, Cal., writes: "We have never had any other medicine but Peru-na in our home since we have been married. I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble, but two months treatment with Peru-na made me a well and strong man. My wife felt weak and was easily tired and was also troubled with various pains, but since she took Peru-na she is well and strong."

Mrs. Ella W. Burbank, a member of the Rebekah Assembly of Maine, assisted special deputy president, Mrs. Roxie Estabrook, in the installation of officers of Ideal Rebekah Lodge, Gorham, N. H., January 6. This is the seventh year Mrs. Burbank has served as grand marshal. At the close of the work she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of carnations. A large number from Bethel, N. H., were present and the installing officers were invited to do the work in Maine Lodge in their city on Wednesday evening, January 12, which they consented to do.

Here's New Vigor For Overworked Stomachs

The Noyes Drug Store, the popular drug store, have been in the drug business long enough to have their own opinion of the best way of selling medicines. They say the plan adopted by Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy, is the fairest they have ever heard of. They don't believe that a medicine ought to be paid for unless it does the user some good. And Mi-o-na is sold under a positive guarantee to relieve dyspepsia or to refund the money. You simply leave 50 cents on deposit with the Noyes Drug Co., and if, after you have used the box of Mi-o-na you decide that it has done you no good, all you have to do is to tell them so and they will return your money.

Hundreds of people have been relieved of stomach aches by using this remarkable remedy. It is not simply a food digester; it is a medicine that puts all of the digestive organs into normal condition and gives ruddy, glowing, vigorous health. A change for the better will be seen after the first few doses of Mi-o-na, and its continued use will soon give the power to eat anything at any time and not suffer distress afterward. Use Mi-o-na and see how much more there is in life.

SOUTHERN DRUG MERCHANT MAKES UNUSUAL STATEMENT

Great Business Losses Due to Neglect

W. WITHERS MILLER

President of the Polk-Miller Drug Company, Richmond, Va., is authority for the following extraordinary statement:

"I estimate that the business men of this country could increase their efficiency fully ten per cent by taking an occasional laxative and not neglecting the bowels as most of them do."

He also said that if the Department of Commerce in Washington would present each business man in the country with a box of Rexall Orderlies, it would be of great benefit to the national welfare. Rexall Orderlies are prompt in action, pleasant to take and never gripe, can be used by men, women or children, and are just the thing for toning up sluggish livers.

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative. Trial size, 10 cents.

PRUNE UP WEEK.

"Prune Up Week" in Oxford county, April 3-8, 1916. University of Maine College of Agriculture through the extension department is going to start a campaign for a "Prune Up Week" in the orchards of Oxford county. They fully believe the old adage "Take care of the orchard and the orchard will take care of you." We find many of the orchards that are not producing the kind of fruit that they should, and are capable of, if they only had a fair chance.

Some of the orchards apparently have not been pruned much, if any, since they were set out. The dead wood and crossing branches are shading the fruit, and preventing a free circulation of air which is absolutely necessary, if we are to grow a quality of fruit that will command the highest price in the market. We want to assist you to make more money from your apple trees, and to that end, we hope to hold a pruning demonstration in each town in Oxford County where apples are grown commercially.

It will be practicable to begin these demonstrations about March 20th, and we hope to hold two meetings each day. At each meeting there will be some one to give a twenty minutes talk on how and why we prune. George A. Yeaton, Director of Farm Demonstrations, will be on hand to answer the questions on orchard management, spraying, fertilizing, and growing small fruits.

Let us have your co-operation in "Better Fruit for Maine."

Extension Schools.

Dates for Extension Schools, University of Maine at Buckfield, Feb. 8, 9, 10, "Poultry," instructors, Yeaton, Monahan, Monahan.

Bridgton, March 1, 2, 3, "Soil Fertility," instructors, Barber, Deering, Chapman.

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

OXFORDBirthday Surprise Party.

Saturday evening, about twenty of the neighbors of J. L. Witham gathered at his home to give him a surprise party in honor of his fifty-seventh birthday. Although the affair was a great surprise to Mr. Witham, yet he proved himself equal to the occasion and greeted all heartily.

Card playing, music and playing games made up the entertainment for the evening, in which all joined. Dainty refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee, also fudge were served. Mr. Witham was the recipient of many presents. At a late hour all departed wishing Mr. Witham many more as happy birthdays.

The following are on the sick list at present: Mr. and Mrs. Quimby Millett, Wilfred Perkins and children, Edward and Joseph Parrott, Mr. and Mrs. LeBroke, Mrs. Mary Scribner and many others. Joseph Robinson is reported as gaining.

Leon Cash, principal of Litchfield Academy, came to Oxford, Saturday, to see his father, Geo. Cash, who was very sick with pneumonia, intending to return Sunday, but just before the stage came for him his father passed away. The village as well as the family has met with a great loss in the death of Mr. Cash. Mr. Cash was a man of sterling worth and was loved and respected by all who knew him. Thirty-three years ago this month he married Georgia Lovejoy. Two boys came to bless this home, which was a very happy one. William of Norway and Leon of Litchfield. Although they have homes of their own, they came to the old home on every festive occasion. Mr. Cash leaves to mourn his loss besides his widow and two sons, two aunts and a large circle of friends. He was a Mason and a Knight of Pythias. His funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the M. E. church, conducted by Rev. Chester Gore Miller of Paris. The orders to which he belonged attended in a body.

CASCOMrs. F. J. McAllister.
On December 28th, after a long and painful illness occurred the death of Mrs. Annie, wife of F. J. McAllister, aged 40 years, 2 months and 28 days.

The McAllister family moved to this place from Passaic, N. J., nearly three years ago, and Mrs. McAllister had been in failing health during that time.

She was a great sufferer and bore her sickness with true christian fortitude. By faith she was a Roman Catholic and she was a consistent christian, being fully reconciled and prepared when the summons came for her to go.

She leaves to mourn their loss a husband and three young daughters, Anna and Margaret, twins, aged six years and Winifred, age four years.

Funeral services were conducted at the home on January 1st by Father Devlin of Norway. The pall bearers were A. T. Winslow, George J. Wilson, C. O. Scribner and Arthur Jordan. Interment was at the South Otisfield cemetery.

Mrs. R. W. Savage has been on the sick list.

S. O. Hancock has a crew of men at work cutting pine on the C. O. Scribner lot.

Arthur Jordan is harvesting his ice.

Mrs. Roscoe Mayberry is visiting relatives in Portland.

Mrs. M. E. Irwin, who for the past few months has been working for Mrs. C. O. Scribner has returned to her home in Freeport.

EAST GREENWOOD.

Gertrude McAllister of South Paris visited at Will Yates' over Sunday.

Abbie Hayes has returned from Portland and is stopping with her son, Loring Roberts.

Eva Swift has been keeping house for Otis Curtis while his wife is visiting friends and relatives in Summer.

Mrs. Lucy I. Curtis has been suffering from an abscess on the face caused by an ulcerated tooth, requiring the aid of the doctor.

Pearl Doughty is on the sick list.

A car of wheat got off the track above Willis' mill Sunday night, delaying the down passenger. The Norway car came up and passengers were transferred to it. The wrecking train came and they got the track cleared at eleven o'clock.

ABBOTT'S MILLS

A. G. Morse was in the place last week. A. Hopkins is hauling birch for A. G. Morse. It is a busy place here hauling pulp and birch.

SAY "HELLO!"

When you see a friend in woe, walk right up and say, "Hello!" Say, "Old Brother, how'd' ye do; How's the world a'usin' you?" Waltz right up, and don't be slow, laugh and shake and say, "Hello!" Slap the brother on the back; bring your hand down with a whack. His clothes are poor—muck no show, never mind, just say, "Hello!" That home-spun shirt may conceal a great strong heart, true as steel; that old coat and shabby vest no ice, but do your best to make him happy here on earth and to feel that he's of worth. Don't you know that such a chap has every day his sure mishap?

All he needs is hearty cheer to make him happy while he's here. Don't let him think that the earth was dead against him since his birth. Crack his shell, draw him out; don't let him whine, sulk or pout. Make him tell you all the woes of his heart before he goes. Don't tell him he's a chump but tell him to get up and hump; tell him not to be so slow, but get around and say, "Hello!" I'm alive, what can I do to help myself, as well as you?

Do not wait until he's dead to strew bouquets around his head. Nice words spoken are out of place, if not said before his face. Make him see that you're his friend, and will stay such to the end. Yes, tell him now though he's old. "Why, old brother, you're just the stuff this world needs to make it go; now brace up and cry, 'Hello!'"

There are plenty such about that are worth the digging out. In this way you surely can make him feel that he's a man. He will always think of you as his best friend, tried and true. In the future you will know what good it does to say "Hello!"

HINTS ON MARKETING.

In buying beef, if the fat is hard and skinny, the beef is inferior; the fat should be white, and the grin of the beef a good color and not too close, but mixed with some fat.

Mutton must be firm and fine in grain, of good color and the fat firm and white. Lamb does not keep long, and when not fresh the knuckle is not firm and the kidney has an odor.

Pork should have a thin rind, and the meat should be smooth and fair. Bacon, like pork, should have a thin rind, and the fat should be firm and inclined to a reddish color.

When purchasing ham, have a knife stuck into it to the bone, which, if the ham be well cured, may be drawn out without leaving any of the meat adhering to it. It should be free from any disagreeable odor.

SUNSHINE A GERMICIDE

Tests Show that Germs of Disease can Not Survive when Exposed to the Sun

Sunshine is an amazingly potent germicide for the farm housekeeper and in the dairy and stables. The practice of exposing cooking and other utensils used in connection with food to direct sunlight makes use of this fact, although comparatively few appreciate exactly the work done by the sun in this regard. Probably only those who are actually acquainted with the tests which have actually been made realize how quickly sunshine kills disease germs exposed to it. Hence the following tests may be generally instructive and interesting.

A pasty, creamy mass of tuberculosis material, which was proved to contain uncounted numbers of virulent tubercle bacilli, was obtained from a tuberculous cow and spread in this smooth translucent layer on sheets of glass, pieces of wood, and strips of muslin. Some of the sheets of glass, pieces of wood and strips of muslin were then placed outdoors on a moderately warm, clear, calm day where the sun could shine on them, and an equal number were placed in a dark room. After 15 minutes exposure to the sun, the tuberculous material on the glass, wood and muslin still contained large numbers of living, virulent tubercle bacilli, which were proved to be fully capable of causing tuberculosis, but after 30 minutes of exposure to the sun no living tubercle bacilli could be found; every test that could be made proved that they were all dead.

Similar tests with quite large opaque masses of tuberculous material, larger and denser than any tuberculous person is apt to expectorate, proved that the bacilli in such masses on glass are still alive after 4, but entirely dead in less than 8 hours, and still alive in the material on wood and muslin after 8, but dead in less than 16 hours.

The tuberculous material in thin layers on glass, wood and muslin, kept in a dark room, was proved to contain fully virulent, living tubercle bacilli, of the same kind, on the same kind of material, lying in a smaller number of minutes in the sunshine than the number of days they remained alive in a dark room.

As most varieties of disease germs are easily destroyed by germinicides than tubercle bacilli, and as tubercle bacilli in the thin layers in which they are likely to adhere to clothing, blankets, rugs, draperies, furniture, walls, floors, etc., are killed by the rays of the sun in less than an hour, though they remain alive in dark places months and longer, it is reasonable to draw the following conclusions:

(a) As a general sanitary principle, it is desirable that all dwellings, stables, etc., should be so constructed that an abundance of sunshine can reach their interiors.

(b) As a general protective measure against disease germs, it is an excellent practice to expose utensils for handling milk, and milk cans after they have been cleaned, to direct sunlight, and to hang or spread wearing apparel, blankets, bedding, rugs, horse blankets, etc., periodically where the sun can shine on all parts of them.

STORAGE OF CARS.

Winter is here! What are you doing with your car?

Every motorist should know that unless he pays particular attention to the way he stores his car or the manner in which he uses it during the winter months, he will incur a large repair expense bill.

Those motorists who do not drive their cars during the winter months should be very careful to store the car properly. The wheels should be jacked up and blocks set under the axles to prevent the car from slipping. When jacked up the tires should be removed, washed carefully and the wheels and axle ends should be oiled. The car should be stored in a dry place and should be repaired before storing. The winter months offer an excellent opportunity to the motorist to get his car in good shape for the coming season.

If the tires are in first-class condition they should be wrapped in dark paper, which will prevent light from getting to them, and then stored where there is no danger of freezing. Heat, light and cold are all enemies of rubber, and the motorist who does not take proper precaution with his tires will find his tires have deteriorated during the winter months.

The car should be gone over carefully and cleaned, grease taken out of the gears, they should be repacked and the radiator taken to drain the radiator. If this is not done there will be danger of freezing. Leave the pet cocks under the radiator and engine open.

Another thing which you may not remember to do is to put up the top. If it remains down during the entire winter it will set in creases and if it is stretched tight it will keep in good shape.

With the aid of these few suggestions you will be able to keep your car in first class shape through the winter months so that it will be in good serviceable shape when warm spring days dry up the roads and you are ready to use your automobile again. A stitch in time now will save dollars next spring.

INDIAN PLEADS FOR TEMPERANCE.

Full Blooded Indian Pleads With White Man to Deliver Him From Evils of Whiskey.

I write you in behalf of my poor people who are ruined with fire water. Drink is among them worse today than last year.

Who can remedy a cure for them so that they can quit it? When the election reaches for a new president, the people are called to have the extension for his saloons to run another twelve months so as not to ruin his business and it is worse among my tribe today. I no lie.

The officials watch very strict, but the Indian will get it just the same. Because why? He do not steal them. He pays a good price for them so no white man on God's earth stop them.

White man he wants money while he has his chance to sell it but the only way cure is to reach where the saloons are abolished in the state of Washington. And it is very hard, knowing whether it will entirely stop my people from drinking.

Still the druggist will have fire water for medical purposes and I know some men are allowed to get it through doctor's prescription and the doctors want dollars too. They will want to give prescription to every man who want it and I think law will give protection on them.

When our state becomes dry next January I have no doubt I like to see whiskey wiped out entirely so my people are saved from the cursed bad drink.

THE "WORN OUT" FARM.

An example of what intelligent farm management may accomplish on a so-called "worn out" hill farm, is offered in the case of a place which was bought for $16.32 per acre, and in two years was made to pay over 32 per cent on the investment.

This place was bought by a farmer who was nearly farming at a profit in the valley below. It consisted of 95 acres of valley rolling land. The land had been cropped with hay and buckwheat for years, and little or no manure or other fertilizing material had been applied. Consequently the soil was in a very poor physical condition. There was a good frame house on the farm, and a rather poor barn.

A tenant was engaged to live in the house and do the work on the farm under the owner's direction. Under the terms of the agreement the owner furnished all the lime and clover seed and half of the other seeds and of the fertilizer. He also supplied a potato planter and digger. The tenant furnished the rest of the machinery, his own teams and all the labor. In return he was to receive one-half of the oats, buckwheat, and potatoes raised, and the income from four cows which he was permitted to keep. It was provided, however, that he was to feed the hay and roughage on the farm and to return the manure, straw, etc., to the land. He was also to do all the improvement work for which he had time, such as picking up stones and cutting hedgerows.

The new owner took possession on April 1. The cropping system for the first season was necessarily a makeshift, owing to the lack of time for putting a definite plan for improvement into action.

Four acres of potatoes were planted. The seed happened to be poor, and only 400 pounds of commercial fertilizer per acre. Five acres of buckwheat yielded 116 bushels. Lime and acid phosphate were applied to one 8-acre tract, and from this field 600 bushels of oats were harvested. At the same time an excellent stand of clover was obtained in the same field. Ten head of young cattle were pastured on a slope where the land was rough and not available for tillage. An old meadow was mowed, yielding about a ton and a half per acre.

During the summer permanent repairs were made at a cost of about $400. At the end of the year the owner's gross receipts amounted to $240.30, of which $157.50 represented his income from his farm.

The next year 9 acres of soil had been plowed and put into potatoes. The land left some of the seed potatoes exposed for several days, and as a result, a very uneven stand was secured. Three plantings were made. The first, from freshly cut seed, gave an average of 150 bushels to the acre. The second, from seed and largest planting made a very poor stand, yielding only 50 bushels to the acre, while the last was good and yielded 150 bushels to the acre. From the whole field 816 bushels were dug, an average of about 90 bushels per acre. The trees were worth a dollar a bushel at the farm, which in part made up for the low yield.

The clover sown the previous year made a good showing. Over four tons of hay were taken from a 2-acre piece, while the remainder of the new seedling clover, a ton per acre. Eight acres of oats, in which the usual seeding of timothy was made, yielded 186 bushels of grain. Lime and acid phosphate had been put on this field. Buckwheat yielded 120 bushels of grain on 5 1/2 acres. Thirteen head of young stock were summered on the pasture. An old orchard of about 2 acres, which the owner had reserved, was renovated and sprayed at a cost of $90.00. At the end of the second year although a number of fairly expensive improvements had been made, including the repair of the barn at a cost of $100, the owner's share of the gross receipts of the enterprise amounted to $609. This income of $609 received for apples from the orchard which was reserved for his own use. His net income was $694.00, or 32 1/2 per cent on his investment.

In this case the owner's labor as superintendent is negligible, since he was running his home farm and devoting only spare time to the hill farm in question. However, even if the owner were allowed $500 for his superintendence and $20 for the use of the few tools which he contributed, the investment would still show a dividend of 9 per cent. At the same time the owner made a comfortable living, and his strict record was a credit to his returns, his share of the field crops for the second year was worth about $500, while the four cows contributed materially to the family living.

WHAT THE SMALL ADVERTISER CAN DO.

People who do a small business sometimes say it is of no use for them to advertise, since their notices will be obscured by the much bigger space taken by larger concerns. That point of view is often based on the principle that the business remains small, but the remedy is in their own hands.

Their feeling does not accord with the every day experience of people who have made a study of the advertising game. In many cases there is a certain class of small notices that attract attention entirely out of proportion to the space taken.

The reason is apt to be that the proprietor of the store writes the ad himself. The proprietor of the bigger concern is apt to delegate the work to a subordinate who may or may not do it well. But by taking a large space he gets public attention even if no exceptional knack is shown in writing the copy. It is a fact that no one can talk so well about a business as the proprietor himself. His mind is full of it, he sees the strong points of his line better than anyone else who does not know it as well, and he can really grow quite eloquent on this subject. If he will write the notice himself, he commits the error of filling a small with too much fine type.

If he feels he can afford only a small space, he should just pick out the one or two things, describe them, and give the price. Every notice as well done in small space is to be exceedingly effective. It is not any special wit or cleverness is shown. It is that the writer has simply put into the same everyday wisdom that he will put into the terse talk with the customer.

Done in this way, an advertisement has a flavor of everyday sense that interests people and they turn to it as to a favorite feature. Many businesses that were small and obscure at the start have grown great and prosperous in this way.

STOCK TAKING.

Every now and then the wise merchant takes account of stock. The process is not usually joyous one for the clerks are not so generally over delighted in its results for the man himself. Yet, like a few other unpleasant but necessary things to be done, like the semi-annual over-hauling at the dentist's or the performance of a surgical operation, the results of the only hold upon us is duty, it must be done, else he doesn't feel that his full measure of business has been attended to properly. The general process is to dump everything out, and sort it over box by box, labeling, measuring, ticketing, casting aside or preserving for future use, according to the value of the goods, as weighed upon. But the effect is the same; weariness of the flesh physically, and weariness of the courage mentally. Because the first revelations usually are that of a surplus of some unmarketable goods which is fit to strike dismay to the heart of any merchant, he be ever so canny in his methods. The weak man clings to this heap and that, seeing merits where none else can see them, the canny man loses false hope in arranging means whereby some of the scrap-heap at least may be saved; the bolder one flings the cast offs to the dump heap, and taking wisdom from the incident, builds his next venture more wisely, and his next success is assured. His very boldness in cutting those from the entanglement carries him through the danger safely. He is the one who turns defeat into victory, and not finding a market for his wares creates one by force of his imagination. Such a man cannot be a successful merchant, for he is not, because he sees ahead, instead of looking retroactively.

Too much love of clothes, too little care for the pennies; too much fondness for appropriation, too little attention to your own conscience, these are the faults, and the things that make that balance sheet a thing to dream over, a delusion and a snare. Too much philanthropy in the abstract, too little attention to the family next door, or around the corner; too much seeking for a tractor, too little study of home building; too much fire and feathers, too much living, not enough of loving, and too much scattering of forces, too little concentration of strength. It takes courage, and skill as well, to face the facts as they are; most of us shrink from seeing the positive picture of ourselves as we turn in disdain from the untouched negative which we get, sometimes at the photographers. We are appalled at the expression of cunning, of scorn, of grossness; we disbelieve the wrinkles, the blimpies, the faults, that the sun and the light co-workers, the camera, presents to us. And we demand, at once, a re-touching, a working out of this and blending of that, a straightening this line and erasing that spot, until the made over thing, possessing our outward but not our inward, pleases our eyes. But this is a misleading story for the world to see. There is in mind one such instance that came to knowledge last winter. A woman made such complaints, and worried the poor photographer so, that he finally said, in a burst of honesty, "Well you can change your face, like, madam; but you can't change the face on your head; that's there to stay!" She had taken no account of stock for all her years, had done as she wished, eaten as she fancied, given way to any trick she had, and she had paid for it when the balance sheet was laid for her inspection, naturally she had an attack of hysteria, so to speak, for she was nearly bankrupt.

The wise merchant takes account stock so frequently that he knows any time where he doth stand. The wise woman takes her account, also, sufficiently often to keep her little bad habits, her little fads and fancies well in hand—she can use them as bait for the bargain hunter she wishes, but realizes they are but the notions of her stock. The trade, and not the staple goods. She can strike her balance, whenever she wishes, and keep her credit good.

The lesson of the merchant is a good one to follow, in personal experience or in the relations with each other. There are times when the woman who would be her best, must sit down and take account of stock as carefully as does the merchant of his wares. It's no use to cry "Out upon it, Vanity," or to feel ashamed or queer in the process. A woman who has been so long in the world demands it of her, these days. The only question which can come up is the question of what is meant by "best." Health, temperance, faithfulness, charity, these are some of the things which count for best always with any woman.

About the time a woman sees her sons and daughters standing on a level with herself, looking straight from eye to eye, she begins to find that there is need of taking account of stock physically. She sits at dawn calmly, some day, and study the matter from an impartial standpoint. She will generally find, first of all, the thing which she has vaguely felt, but refused to admit, that she is getting fat or getting thin to a marked degree. Now, a double chin means one of two things, generally one; too much rich food and too little care of the person. Fat accumulates either from over-feeding or under-exercise. And she is getting wrinkled; too many frowns or sumpers, or too little nourishment for the body; bad in either case, and can be counteracted if taken in hand. And she finds she is getting short of breath, or suspiciously prone to queer little pains in her hurries; too little fresh air and lung exercise, or too much sugar and starch again. Take account of your stock, my lady, and see where you are long, or short.

As with the physical, so the mental; she finds, if she takes the inventory, that she is overfond of sensationalism, in reading, in comments and conversation. Too much light reading, too much trifling of time away, too much chatting, too little application, too little system, too little thinking thought of things. Here is an excellent chance to restock the store my dear, and an excellent chance to discard bygone fashions as having served their turn.

Fryberg's Oldest Man.

William Durgin, the oldest citizen of Fryberg died at the age of 93 years. He was born here and his entire life was spent in Fryberg. Mr. Durgin was the oldest Knight of the Pythian Order, in the State.

One of the Greatest Happiness Destroyers.

I think this habit of being annoyed at little slips and mistakes, of being always ready to notice upon them and to upbraid those who are responsible, is one of the greatest happiness destroyers in the world.

And, like most happiness destroyers, it is entirely unnecessary.

What Boys' Agricultural Clubs mean to the Country.

Three hundred thousand boys and girls are enrolled in the United States in agricultural clubs which are carried on successfully in all the states. In the South, Boys' Corn Clubs have added millions of bushels to the country's yields.

In 1913, Walker Lee Dunsen of Alexandria, Ala., was Boy Champion Corn Grower of the World with a record of 332.7 bushels per acre. Neader home at Harlakenen, N. H., Young Hoyt Quinn, harvested 124 bushels of flint corn from one acre.

The coming season Sweet Corn Clubs will be formed in this state. The Maine Canners Association has offered $2,525.00 for prizes to be awarded in 1916 to the boys of the State growing sweet corn for their canneries.

The object of the clubs is to give the boys a chance to earn money in an enjoyable, healthful occupation without interfering with school duties. It teaches them to farm in the best way and to do business in the right way. It gives them a real interest and activity to take the place of idleness or harmful interests.

That the boys may co-operate instead of competing with each other, the state will be divided into groups, and each group will have two hundred dollars to be awarded in prizes. There will be fifty prizes for each group ranging from one dollar for the largest and one dollar the smallest.

To bring this to the attention of the boys between the ages of ten and eighteen years we are asking the co-operation of the schools, the grange, and farmers' clubs in the communities where sweet corn clubs may be formed.

There are eighteen sweet corn canneries in Oxford county, and we want one or more live clubs in each town that furnishes corn to these factories.

A contest at which the exhibits will be judged and the records and stories rated will be held in Portland some time in December, 1916.

Every boy who carries through his project according to rules will be invited to attend this contest and will be entertained free of charge during his stay in Portland.

The director of Farm Demonstrations of Oxford County with the State Leader of Boys' Agricultural Clubs are beginning an active campaign in forming these sweet corn clubs. Any one wishing information about forming a club should address either the State Leader, Ralph P. Mitchell, Orono, or George A. Yeaton, Norway.

WARNS AGAINST TOOTH NEGLECT

"The man who eats twice as much as he should is just as bad as the man who over indulges in alcoholic beverages."

After warning members of his audience against the use of soft foods, he cautioned parents about attending to their children's "chewing machine," saying, in part:

"It is on that point, probably more than any other, that health of the child hinges. Children between the ages of four and seven years should be watched particularly, because the sixth year molar is present in the child's mouth at an early age and does not displace a baby tooth, this may be over looked and become broken down before the mother realizes it. Since each tooth bites against two on the opposite jaw, the loss of even one tooth can readily be seen to be disastrous."

"Another thing mothers should do to teach the child the value of mouth cleanliness. The child with a sound set of teeth and free from acid mouth, stands a 100 to 1 better chance of avoiding or of pulling through a contagious disease than the child whose teeth are left to take care of themselves."

"More than 80 per cent. of all school children have bad molars. Most diseases of bacterial origin, broken down molar is a palace of propagation for these organisms. Darkness, filth, moisture and warmth are all to be found in a broken down tooth, only waiting to transfer their operations to other parts of the body when we are below par cleanliness."

"What shall we use to obtain the best results in cleaning these trouble makers? As far as I can see, nearly all of the preparations sold on the market are good. Their only objection is that they are sometimes costly. Then again you pay more for the best than for the cheap, and the same ingredients, namely, precipitated chalk, a little white soap, possibly a little bicarbonate of soda, and then the flavor, wintergreen or any other that you may prefer. Why not make this right in the home. It is very easy, and a pound can be made for about 30 or 40 cents. The chalk first of all is the cleaner, the soap helps out in removal of fatty substances, the soda confines itself mainly to the neutralizing of the various acids, and stops decay by removing any abundance of the same."

"In concluding I will tell of one other trouble which also can be easily stopped at home, as a rule, toothache. I guess all of us have been troubled with it, or the night, or another. Wake up in the night, a tooth is jumping. How are you going to stop it? I have said that practically all tooth disorders are caused by decay and through food particles and foreign substance lodging in the cavity and fermenting. The remedy then would appear to be in removing this substance. When that is done through a careful application of an antiseptic with a soft piece of cotton, most any counter irritant such as oil of cloves or a dental gum will give relief."

THE NEWSPAPER READER.

Don't take your paper home. It is the most active and powerful factor in building up your town and to support it would involve you in the work. Don't pay for it if you take it. Newspapers are run on wind, and the editor wouldn't keep the money anyway. He'd most likely pay it on his bills.

Don't fail to tell the editor how to run the paper. He has nothing to do but to listen and keep his temper sweet. Don't put your name on what you want published. It's the editor's business to espouse unpopular causes, and take your chances out of the fire. What hurts your business might also hurt his.

Don't notice the editor when you change your post office address. He may lose track of you and you will escape paying the last two or three years of your subscription.

Don't forget to write on both sides of the paper. The printers might forget how to swear.

Don't write your communications legibly. Deciphering them keeps the editor busy and he is able to make an occasional blunder, which promotes good feeling all around.

In the mind of the gossip, spreading scandal becomes a virtue.

Sick Children Made Well

Worms sap the health and vitality of your child. Familiar symptoms of worms are: De-ranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, shiny dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

You can absolutely depend upon Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, to expel worms and tone up the stomach, bowels and general health. Dr. True's Elixir has been on the market for over 60 years. Mrs. Fred Nelson of Houston, Texas, writes: "I find it a fine laxative." At your dealer's, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Advice free.

"I don't quite see the point of that remark of yours," said Mr. Skinner, the grocer, as he tied up the package of sugar.

"What remark was that?" asked the customer.

"You just remarked that some men had an offhand way of doing things and you wished I was one."

"Yes; I wished to remind you that your hand was on the sugar when you weighed it."

Z. L. MERCHANT & CO.

The January Clearance and Stock Reduction Sale will continue until Monday Night, January 24.

When a person really gives thought to his present or future needs and really makes an examination of the merchandise offered in our

CLEARANCE SALE

The true purchasing advantages that are offered are clearly revealed.

Then it is understood (and without doubt or question) how the purchasing power of the dollar has been increased—no deception—no misleading statements are to be contended with. It is simply a genuine clearance sale to be terminated just before the inventory and conducted for the sole purpose of properly adjusting the stocks. On Coats and Suits in many instances a full half has been taken off the regular or rightful price. In other departments a reduction of 10, 15, 20, 25 and even 33 1-3 per cent. has been made, but in every instance it may be assured the reduction is genuine and the merchandise is particularly worthy.

AS EXAMPLE, we mention only a few of the many items at reduced prices.

ALBANY.

Albany Line and Vicinity.

This and the surrounding towns was saddened to learn of the death of one of its greatest benefactors and a prominent citizen of the town of Stoneham, Jonathan Bartlett, who passed to the higher life, January 15 at 8 p. m. He was one of the firm of Elliott & Bartlett, who owned and operated the wool mill at the Four Corners in Albany for many years. He has left a vacancy that cannot readily be filled. He was a man of good judgment and keen business qualities. Politically a strong republican all of his life. Always taking a great interest in politics. Sagacious in promoting the welfare of the town, and always ready to lend a helping hand to all in need. His sons are Herman Bartlett, a leading physician in Norway, Fred Bartlett, a justice of the peace, who lived at home and kindly cared for his parents. Charles Bartlett, who runs a general store in East Stoneham and Melville Bartlett, who has high sheriff for a number of years, also lives in East Stoneham.

Roy Lord has taken a contract to get out a number of barrels of the infusorial earth in Chalk Pond, having been leased to a party from Vermont, who is mining it for the valuable polish supposed to exist there. The infusorial earth is supposed to form from minute insects and shells, fish bones and it is thought the wash from the mountains around it furnish something toward it, being formed of mica feldspar, etc.

Cecil Kimball is on the sick list. Walter Lord is able to be about the house and do a few chores, but has not been out of doors as yet.

Mrs. York and daughter are gaining slowly. Mrs. Ernest Brown is about the house but gains slowly.

Become a Member of the Family.

Dr. O. K. Yates of West Paris writes us: "The Advertiser has been in my home for the past forty-six years and it has become a part of my family."

I have now passed my 84th birthday and my wife and I recently celebrated our 63rd anniversary of our wedding. Our relatives are all dead, brothers, sisters and four children and we are finishing our journey alone."

The doctor is a busy man even in these days and has a large practice and occasionally gets a good bit of local news.

STUDYING BIRDS IN WINTER.

Winter makes bird study an easy matter. The perplexities of the autumn migration with the scores of species passing through from the north, the young birds in their peculiar attire, the old ones in the drabs and browns that some affect for winter wear in place of their vivid summer plumage, are gone on. The good and the bad of winter study remain. Moreover, the cold and snow tend to make them more friendly and familiar than in summer.

The chickadee may have refused our proffered nesting-box in May and taken his bride to the birches of the wood-fairy. And there fed and educated the family. But in December he is pretty sure to bring them to the garden, foraging among the sunflower and chickory planted there for him. The family will explore the trees for insect larvae and eggs and remember store of seed hung there last winter. With them will, no doubt, appear the white-breasted nuthatch, the downy woodpecker and the brown creeper. They seek similar food on the same trees and often one may note the distinct and invariable characteristics of the different birds at the same time. The chickadees sit from twig to twig, head up or head down as the need occurs, careless of attitude. Not so the woodpeckers. They may be scrupulous of movement, their perch is always in the most correct form, upright, head back, tail down. Most methodical of all is the trim little brown creeper. He alights at the foot of the tree, works primly upward and swings a swift parabola from near the top to the base of the next one.

And then along comes the nuthatch, and reverses the brown creeper's action. He alights near the top of the tree and "yank rants" himself downward. The chickadee does not object to being upside down, but the nuthatch insists on it. If a limb is to be explored he goes to the tip of it and works toward the trunk. But when he finds a chestnut, then the time he shows this characteristic most prominently. The nuthatch deserves his name. Hatch is early English for chop, and he knows how to chop nuts open. When the crop is good, chestnuts may be found on the ground beneath the trees all winter.

It is fun to watch a nuthatch at work on one of these. He will eye the ground from his upside down perch on the tree trunk much as a squirrel does and run down in quite the same way to pick up the big brown nut in his slender bill. Then he goes back to the tree and finds a V-shaped corrugation in the bark which will hold the nut—his chopping-block. Then he proceeds to "hatch" it. He might not think that slender bill had much chopping edge, but the little gray-blue and black and white bird much chopping nut, but there is no chestnut that can withstand the nuthatch. The nut may leap from the block a dozen times. He'll run down and get it again, placing it in the same groove, and in the end he'll split his way through the tough rind and get at the delicious meat within.

One winter day I watched him do this. It took him half an hour to get at his lunch. Then he feasted royally. And when he turned a joyous handspiring to the topmost twig of the tall tree and went to bed. The nuthatch, like most hole-nesting birds, seeks a hole in a tree or a nesting-box for shelter through the long bitter winter nights. But this was not by an after-dinner nap and the bird took it in the most curious way. He hung himself head downward by one claw, fluffed out his feathers till he looked not at all like a bird and hung there for thirty minutes. So far as I could make out with the bird glass he was fast asleep. His curious attitude probably made for safety for he looked far more like a brown-tail moth nest or a tangled fluff of plant-down than like a bird. By and by he waked up, tasted the remnant of his feast, turned up his nose at it, and went hand-springing off to another tree. The nuthatch is the goblin acrobat of the winter woods, and his ways are a constant source of joy to the watcher.

The blue jay and crow are free-booters, none to well liked by the smaller birds and for good reason. The crow thrives in the midst of civilization, but long remembers man's enmity and keeps well out of gunshot in most times and places. But the jay—saucy rascal—comes to the house and jeers at us. He may build his nest on a bough near your window edge and repay your tolerance by eating the eggs of the song-sparrow in the nest in the shrubbery by the front door. The jay is a bold, bad bird and ought to be kept in the depths of the wood where he belongs and where he has his uses. But in winter the small birds are safe and we are apt to admire his saucy ways and his handsome plumage and welcome him to the feeding-station. He will come to the window itself if you encourage him. In return you will do well to keep the suet well tied down or he will fly away with the whole lump.

You may not know the goldfinches when they come for the hemp and put out flower seeds which most people put out for them, at least not at first glimpse, for the goldfinch has lost much of his gold with the passing of summer. The black is still conspicuous on his cap, wings and tail, but only a little of the yellow glows through the drab and brown of his lesser feathers. He is the same sprightly chap, however, and as merry as ever as he feeds, showing the way to the goldfinches which often flock with his clan. The goldfinches love chickory seeds, and a garden plot full of these blue-eyed perennials will be golden with goldfinches as long as the seed lasts.

Yet, whatever the changes of plumage and habits are, our all-year birds are quite easily recognized and with them the amateur bird student soon becomes familiar. When the cold has come to stay and the real winter is upon us he who hunts with an opera-glass may yet find bird wonders waiting for him in field and wood, for the cold and diminishing food supply often send birds of the far north to us. The snowy owl and the white gyrfalcon may swoop on broad pinions over the snowy wastes, bringing a touch of arctic weirdness to the scene. The northern shrike may hang a meadow mouse in his improvised ladder in the thorn hedge, for all these are occasional winter visitors.

More likely to be seen, however, and indeed more welcome, are the pine grosbeaks. Something of the aura has touched these sleek birds of the north and they slip along the snow, suffused with the tints of dawn. Sleek and demure as kittens they are and often without fear of man, almost allowing him to pick them up. Evening grosbeaks, chance visitors from the northwest—may come, and siskins, redpolls, juncos and tree-sparrows are to be expected.

The best way to study these birds is to tramp the fields and find them. The hunting spirit is strong in us all and it is a far greater joy to stalk wild creatures when we may bag them with opera-glass and note-book, yet leave them wild and free as ever. The zest of exercise in the keen winter air is payment enough even if the bag is small. But, one may go still-hunting as well. It is a fine charity to put out constant supplies of food for the wintering birds and one may attract them to the door by doing it and observe and photograph them from the warmth and comfort of the house.

To feed the birds in winter is a simple matter. To feed them well is a fine art. Crumbs from the table, scraps of meat or suet from the larder, chaff from the hayrack, all will serve, yet certain special foods are especially attractive. The chickadees love sunflower seed as well as suet and the nuthatches will hatch them on angled bark chopping-blocks as readily as they will chestnuts. The juncos and tree-sparrows love hemp-seed, and nut meats attract them all. When the snow is deep "chicken grit" is eagerly sought. All birds must have gravel for their crop's sake and the ice and snow give them scant opportunity to get it. These, with wheat, buckwheat, milo-maize and kaffir corn mixed in the right proportions make a very attractive food for the winter birds, and the pleasure of watching them eat it is well worth the expense and trouble of providing it.

SOUTH HIRAM.

A leap year social was held at the new school house Saturday evening by the Misses Spring, Gilpatrick, Ridlon and Stearns. $16.50 was taken to go towards the piano and electric lights, a general good time.

Mrs. Emma Merrifield is sick with the gripe.

School began here Monday taught by Miss Martin of East Sebago. She boards at Geo. Holland's.

Phil Durgin, who works at East Hiram, spent the week-end with his family.

Mrs. Gladys Thomas and two daughters, Velma and Edith, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas McDaniel, for two weeks, have gone to their new home in Denmark, where Mr. Thomas has employment for a year.

Willie Wardsworth, who has been sick, is reported better.

Helen Merrifield was the guest Friday of Gladys Durgin.

KEZAR FALLS.

Mrs. Litchfield of Pine Point is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Fox.

The M. E. Sunday school held their annual election, Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ridlon. The following officers were elected:

Superintendent—Sidney B. Stanley. Asst. Supt.—B. F. Ridlon. Treasurer—Mrs. B. F. Ridlon. Secretary—William T. Norton.

Rev. Cymbrid Hughes took as his text last Sunday morning, "Fast thou enterest into the treasures of the snow, or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail?" giving a most beautiful sermon therefrom.

The choir sang the anthem, "Though thy sins be as Scarlet they shall be white as snow."

Dr. E. R. Chellis, who has been dangerously sick with erysipelas, is convalescing.

Mrs. Joseph C. Knight and her brother, Elmer Emery have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Emery.

George H. Austin is selling toilet articles. A vegetable soap, Gre-Solvent, O-Need-O cleansing and shaving cream. Something needed in the home. See ad.

THE WHOLE BODY NEEDS PURE BLOOD

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood.

If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased; the muscles become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness, and pimples, blotches and other eruptions appear.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood. It is positively unequalled in the treatment of scrofula and other humors, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling. Be sure to get Hood's and eat it today. All druggists.

ers, D. Corey and Bicknell.

Basket Ball.

Norway High 2nd met with Paris High and defeated them with the score of 7 to 2. It was a very interesting game and was rough at times. It was hard for Paris to get around as they were not used to a slippery floor. Branch starred for Norway while Berry did for Paris.

Prize for Play.

Clinton J. Massek, instructor of eugenics at Washington University, has just won a prize for the best one-act play submitted to "The Drama League" of St. Louis. The play is entitled, "A Visitor in the Night," and is soon to be produced by "The Players," a very exclusive and successful club in the city.
Dr. Massek and Melville Burke are now working on a project which, when it materializes, will be a great thing for dramatics in St. Louis. Most cities of consequence in America have a so-called "Little Theater," the object of which is to present modern drama under the intimate conception that dominates the dramatic theory of the present. Dr.
Massek and Mr. Burke will probably have one of the best "Little Theater" buildings in the country. They plan to put on modern plays and to make a special feature of matinees for children.
The project is to be supported by subscriptions, many of which are already in hand. There is a deep interest in the plan—so much so that there is a very good prospect of several individual endowments. Dr. Massek is a son of C. S.
Massek of Norway.

Dr. Stephen Harry Chase.

Friends of Dr. Stephen Harry Chase of Haverhill, Mass., received word Saturday of his death, which occurred in Haverhill, after an illness of only two hours.
Dr. Chase was born Nov. 3, 1870, and was the son of Abner B. and Frances E.
Chase. He came to Norway when seven years of age, and attended the public schools. He was a member of the class of 1890, but left school before graduating to attend a dental college in Boston.

He opened a dental office in Haverhill where he has been very successful. He is survived by his widow and one daughter.

Carl Crommet and Charles Mixer, who have been working in Lewiston, in the employ of the Hartford Refrigerating Co., have gone to Manchester, N. H., on a job of work for the company. They will later return to Portland to do some work.

A number of the members of Norway
Lodge, I. O. O. F., will go to West Paris, Saturday evening with Mr. Mica Lodge.
The South Paris team will work the first degree. A special train will leave South Paris at 6:45.

THE N. H. S. MALE

MINSTREL TROUPE.

When I first thought of giving a minstrel performance for the benefit of the Norway High Athletic Association, I hardly realized the amount of work that such an undertaking would entail. On the whole it has been "some job." And in addition to the numberless details that had to be looked after, we have had to "shake up" the end seats on no less than two occasions. Old Man Griggs also threatened to put us out of business once or twice. But now that the main bulk of the work is done, and the programme is in working shape, we are all glad that we have put in the time, and we are looking forward to the evening of January 26th with eagerness and satisfaction. We have worked hard to be ready to give you a rattling, old-fashioned darkey minstrel show, and while we are not advertising ourselves as the best troupe that ever trod the boards, we do feel that we can send you away from the Opera House feeling that your evening has not been wasted.

Speaking for myself, I may say that while I have had the usual number of vacations incidents to deal with from day to day, I have also found a great deal of pleasure in watching this troupe round into shape. Every man among them seemed to realize from the very first that this entertainment is being given for a worthwhile cause, and every man among them has put forth his best efforts to help make the show worthy of its object. And even though the boys were somewhat handicapped at first because they have seen and dealt with comparatively few darkeys, that sort of spirit will soon overcome anything. I was pleased to note the quickness with which they picked up the negro mannerisms and inflections at rehearsals; and—best of all—I was especially pleased with the manner in which they "took hold" of the songs. People living outside the Eastern states are wont to poke a lot of good natured fun at the New Englander descendants—"talk through their noses;"
but I can assure them—yes, verily, that they don't sing that way. In fact,
these young men have sung so well for me at rehearsals that I feel quite safe in saying that our end men will work before as good a chorus as one could pick from the ranks of amateur performers.

In addition to this, we have something unusual and unique to offer you in the way of costuming. Mr. Burnell, well known in Norway through successful minstrel work in the past, has also promised something exceptionally good in regards "stage setting." I am quite sure that Mr. Burnell is going to be as good as his word—for he looks to be that sort of a man, you know—and as for the costumes, I spent the better part of a day in Portland going over the detail with Mr. Brown, the well known theatrical costumer, and if you are not pleased with the appearance of the troupe, I'm going to feel darned disappointed. So will Mr. Brown. I found him a splendid chap to deal with—a man, in fact, who gave me the "pick" of his newest and best suits. As a result, every person on the stage, including the orchestra, will be in full regalia when the curtain rises—a setting that cost over sixty dollars rental for but one night's use.

In spite of the "bear stories" circulating, there have been but one or two minor changes in the programme.
"George Washington General Jackson Razale Darkey" will sing "Ranbunctious Uncle Joe" with one of his Henry's old time orchestra and full circle accompaniment; "Aunt Dinah" will be there with her pickaninies singing
"How De Green Grass Did Rise Up and Grow," "Hoodown Finney" will tell you all about the troubles a poor nigger has when he tries to write advertisements and will also sing "The Tips Everybody Gives Me"; "Hugh Pendexter, Sr. has his 'make up' ready for "Three Minutes in a Dainty Lunch"; and his son, Hugh Jr. will appear in a monologue entitled "How Me And General Grant Fit
the Civil War." This is an original sketch, and a scream from start to finish.
These, with other things that are mentioned in the bills, will go, we think,
to round out a satisfactory programme,
and so we are not at all backward in inviting you to drop into Stone's Drug Store to put up thirty-five cents for a reserved seat ticket. At this writing they are going rapidly, but the more you pudly they go the better it is going to suit us. Nuff said.

In conclusion, we as a troupe wish to thank the business men who have so kindly displayed our bills in prominent places. We also wish to thank Mr.
Knapp, the brilliant cornetist who will direct the orchestra and who will also entertain you with a cornet solo; Miss Mary Mealand, who has so ably directed the singing at rehearsals; Miss Ruth Akers, who has accompanied the singers;
Mr. True O. Morrill, who so kindly exposed the use of the school building during our preparations; Mr. Perkins,
"the movie man," who has displayed our advertisements on his screen; Mr. Ned Burnell, who has helped in the making of the show a success by taking the stage setting off, the management's hands; and Mr. Shaw with his entire orchestra. These last, although they are paid for their services, have been far from showing the spirit "I'll do what I can, for-and-no-more." On the contrary, they have assisted the management in every way possible to make the show something that will be worthwhile.

We also wish to thank all those who have shown appreciation of our work by purchasing tickets to this affair. A minstrel show is designed for fun, and aside from the object of the performance, we want to give you an entire evening of it. In fact, we want to have a lot of fun out of this ourselves, so we've worked hard to get to the point where you will get fun out of us. For that's where we'll get our fun—in the knowledge that we're pleasing you. Some of you may be nervous when I had blamed certain goes up," but if you show that you're "with" us for a happy evening, we'll promise to do the rest. In the meantime, we beg to remain, adv.

Faithfully yours,
The N. H. S. Male Minstrel Troupe.

Mildred J. Holmes entertained the teachers of the village schools at her home, Wednesday evening, Jan. 12. The guests each represented a song in one way or another. During the evening
refreshments of sandwiches, fruit salad,
olives, cocoa, coffee and candy were served. There were twelve teachers present, and two Norway guests, Grace Thibod-eau and Helen Howe.

The subject of next Sunday's Chris-

Deuteronomy 32:34.

Ned E. Ordway, Suicide.
The dead body of Ned E. Ordway was found Sunday morning at his home, the John Rhodes farm in the Pike Hill neighborhood, by his mother, Mrs. John Ordway of Oxford. It was the custom of his mother to visit him Sunday and as he was living alone, to do the house
work.

Death was due to a gun shot in the head which caused instant death. Medical Examiner, Dr. H. L. Bartlett did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest and pronounced it a clear case of suicide.

Commercial Club.
The officers of the Commercial Club
recently elected are:

Mrs. A. E. K. Grover spent Sunday and Monday with relatives and friends in Hebony and returned to her home in Norway. Judge James H. Sisk has granted a divorce to Agnes E. Morgan from Joseph A. Morgan for desertion. These people were married in Lynn on July 11, 1906, and he left her on July 15, 1906, and went to Norway, Me. She has not seen him since and he refuses to live with her.
The decree was granted at Salem, Mass.

SOUTH PARIS

Divorce Granted.
Mrs. Mary Martin of Portland was granted a divorce from her husband, Harry E. Martin of South Paris. "The care and custody of the minor children,
Frank B. Martin and Philip E. Martin,
is decreed to the libellant and Franklin
Martin, grandfather of said minor children, jointly. It is ordered that the said children be forthwith removed and that they be domiciled within the county of Cumberland, in the personal care of the said libellant.

The libelle is ordered to pay to the libellant, as attorney the sum of five dollars a week, and he is further ordered to pay to the joint custodians hereinbe-fore named, in support of said minor children, the sum of four dollars a week,
the said sums to be paid weekly, the first payments to be made Jan. 27, 1916."

Esther George of Hebron was the guest of Flora Murch on Sunday.
Mrs. Griffin Stuart after spending some time in Portland has returned home.

PAINS IN SIDE
AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back,
but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and using two bottles of the Sensitive Wash
I am fully convinced that I am entirely cured of these troubles, and feel better
all over. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine
they need.

This good old root and herb remedy
has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

If there is any peculiarity in your case requiring special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential),
Lynn, Mass., for free advice.

Annual meeting was changed to the second Friday in January. The building is in fine repair and the only repairs to be made this season is to put in a steel ceiling
in the store occupied by John Pierce.
The officers of Stony Brook Lodge, N.
E. O. P., installed by Deputy Grand Warden, Mabel Warren and staff, are as follows:

Past Warden—Maud Sweet.
Warden—Johnson Martin.
Vice-Warden—O. Clifford.
Rec. Sec.—Ella Winslow.
Fin. Sec.—Albert Dean.
Treas.—Jennie Dean.
Chap.—Luther Winslow.
Guardian—Dorcas Cutting.
Sentinel—Charles Moulton.
Third Trustee—Eugene Swan.

Open Grange Meeting.
South Paris Grange will hold an "Open" meeting, Saturday, February 5th, commencing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. At an "open meeting" every one is invited and welcome. Pagan, Jew, Gentile Grange, male and female,
boys and girls and the subject under discussion will be the raising of sweet corn and the forming of Boys' Sweet Corn Clubs so some of the 2525.00 prize money offered by the Maine Corners' Association
may come this way.

This prize contest work is under the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture of Maine and Ralph Twitchell, State Leader of Boys' Agricultural Clubs, will be present, also Dr. G. A.
Yenton of Orchard Demonstration work will take a hand and an interesting meeting is assured.

The boys are especially urged to be present as well as grown-ups. There are 18 corn factories in this county and a fair allotment of territory and prize money will be made and the result watched with interest by all raisers of sweet corn.

It is hoped a good delegation from West Paris, Norway and the surrounding towns will be present.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK.

Lewis L. Keene New Cashier of Bridgton National Bank.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Bridgton National Bank, Tuesday evening, the resignation of William T. Johnson, who has been cashier of the bank, since its organization, was accepted and Louis L. Keene, assistant cashier, was elevated to this position.

Mr. Keene is eminently well fitted for this position. He has been the action of the directors is very pleasing to his many friends here. Frederick E. Olene, of Auburn, was elected as assistant cashier of the bank.

Since the intimation of the resignation of Mr. Johnson, the directors of the bank have received a large number of applications for the vacancy and they had a wide range of candidates to select from.

At the stockholders' meeting held just prior to the directors' meeting the old board of directors was elected and William T. Johnson was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George W. Newcomb, who was the first vice president of the bank.

The directors organized with the re-election of Winburn M. Staples as president and Dr. Edward S. Abbott as vice president. The other directors are: Hollis H. Caswell, Harrison; Walter Davis, G. R. Hamblen, Edward C. Walker, Mellen Plummer, all of Bridgton; W. H. H.
Allen, of Washington, D. C. and William T. Johnson of Augusta.

When in Lewiston why not stop at Mrs.
Gertrude Gray's, 113 Wood street. Mrs.
Gray was formerly from South Paris.
She will take good care of you. See ad.

ONE PRICE TO ALL

Worth $10.00 reduced to $1.39—Some discount that. Did you ever read an "AD" which promised something like the above? Certainly you have, but did you believe it? No. If the article is really worth $10.00 there is no necessity for selling it for $1.39—it will bring much more—and if it is offered for $1.39 there are good reasons why it is not worth $10.00.

Because an article was worth $10.00 once, it does not follow that it is worth $10.00 today. It would be worth as much as it would sell for, no more, no less.

Ladies' hoop-skirts for instance, "worth $1.50 at 9 cents each" would be rather absurd as, from a commercial standpoint, they are not even worth 9 cents at present—the style has passed.

Exaggeration is a modest name for misstatements of this kind—We know how absurd they are—you know it too—We never make them. In all of our advertising we stick to Plain Facts. Whether the values quoted are large or small, they are true—ALWAYS. If styles have passed an article by, the value has decreased and we had such articles to advertise we would make this point plain—Always.

EAST STONEHAM.

Hon. Jonathan Bartlett.

Hon. Jonathan Bartlett passed away Saturday at his late home in East Stoneham, at the age of 77 years, 11 months and 19 days, of a grippe.

Mr. Bartlett was the son of Jonathan and Triphena (Horn) Bartlett and was born in Norway, January 27, 1838. When a small boy he moved to Stoneham with his parents.

In January, 1867 he was united in marriage to Frances E. Ball, daughter of Captain John Ball of Portland, who survives him, also his four sons, Dr. Herman L. of Norway, Charles L., Fred H. and L. Melvin of Stoneham, all well known Oxford County men.

In 1870 Mr. Bartlett commenced the manufacture of spools in company with Hiram P. Elliott, under the firm name of Elliott & Bartlett. Mr. Bartlett has also run lumber mills at Stoneham and has been engaged in farming and other business pursuits.

Mr. Bartlett has served his town in town offices for many years, being most of the time on the board of selectmen. In 1855 he represented the district in which Stoneham was included as representative to the legislature and in 1905 was a member of the state senate from Oxford County. From January 1899 to January 1904 he served as county commissioner. In politics he was a republican.

Mr. Bartlett was a member of Mt. Tiram Lodge of Masons of Waterford, and of Oxford Chapter and Council at Norway; was a charter member of Oxford lodge of Odd Fellows at North Waterford; and was a charter member and first chancellor of Hiawatha Lodge, K. of P., at East Stoneham. He was a member of the Congregational church. He was a man who commanded the highest respect of the community and surrounding country, and a man genial and cordial in his dealing with all.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his late home, Revs. C. N. Eliopeter of North Waterford and R. J. Bruce of Norway being the attending clergymen. The bearers were Addison Millett and George Rice representing the Masons, and A. F. Moody and Fred McKee representing the Knights of Pythias. Burial in Hillsdale cemetery at East Stoneham.

Gwendolyn Ford is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Henry Bickford, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilberger have returned to their home from Speckled Mountain, where they have been camping this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Garrett returned with them.

Eulalie Parker is very ill with the grip. Levi Butters was in town Tuesday. Little Margaret McAllister, who has been ill for the last few days, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartlett attended the graduation of their daughter, Frances, from the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she is training to be a nurse, Thursday.

Mrs. Ann Hill remains very poorly. Frances Bartlett was called home Tuesday, to attend the funeral of her grandfather, Jonathan Bartlett.

BETHEL

The officers of the Relief Corps were installed last Wednesday evening, after which there was a short entertainment, followed by refreshments. A large number of invited guests filled the hall. The officers of Post G. A. R. were installed the same evening.

Thursday evening the officers of Bethel Grange were installed by Rev. J. H. Little. Refreshments and a seed hunt followed the installation service.

About 6 o'clock, p. m., Monday, this week, fire was discovered in the annex to the Bethel Town Stable, and the fire department quickly brought out the fire. The annex is used as a feed room, and the fire was caused by a lantern which had been left burning. The fire was confined to that room, which was pretty thoroughly burned out, and the lower floor, including the stable office, was well floor, and is an excellent training and addition to the school curriculum.

The State W. C. T. U., President, Mrs. Althea G. Quimby of North Turner, has been secured to speak at the next Union Temperance meeting, which comes on the 5th, Sunday evening of this month, and will be held in the Universalist church, East 30.

Mrs. Sarah Hurd is visiting her son, Herbert, and family.

Charlie Gain has moved his family from North Fryeburg to his father's house. Annie Graves was called home from her school at Toll Bridge, Monday night, by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Albert Bemis.

MANY CHILDREN HAVE WORMS
Worms are a common childhood ailment. They make children irritable, nervous and restless, besides robbing the body and mind of proper nourishment. Watch your child. Examine the stools and at first signs of worms give your child a treatment of Kikkapoo Worm Killer. They kill the worms, act as a laxative and expel the worms and poisonous waste. Tone the system and help restore your child's health and happy disposition. Only 25c. at your Druggist.

Bethel boasts a new winter sport in the Ski Boi, said to be the fastest coaster yet devised. The idea was imported from Vermont.

NORTH WATERFORD.

Mrs. Rilla Marston has been spending a few days with her daughter and mother.

Mrs. Lillian Douglass is at her home here. Her boys, Edmund and Ray, who have been ill, are getting better.

Charles Marston, assisted by John Jones, has been sawing wood here with his gasoline engine.

Mrs. E. H. Nason was very sick with bronchitis.

Mrs. Irvin Green has not been as well for a few days, so a physician was called, Monday.

Harry Morey is working for J. B. Haskell at East Waterford driving team and boards at Henry Rolf's.

Charles York is out of the spool mill, since George York was called.

Harry Brown is quite sick, so a physician was there, Monday.

Rice Neighborhood.
Charles Saunders came home from Bridgton to spend Sunday.

Vera Rice is working for Walter Evans in Sweden.

Burnham Rice and son, Walter, are cutting timber on the Decker place.

Leroy and Alfred Hersey and Rubie Decker are all on the sick list.

Ernest Grover has finished putting in Chas. Saunders' ice. Geo. Rice is also filling his ice house.

Robert Kimball is cutting birch for Geo. Rice.

PORTER.

Willie McKenzie, who has been working for G. B. Mills' in the mill, finished work Monday.

Willard Mason had the misfortune to have his foot run over by a load of birch, Friday, spraining it quite badly so that he is still unable to work. Lloyd Luxton, who has been working for Douglass Cushing is taking Mr. Morris' place driving E. C. Morrill's team.

Eli Grover and Douglass Cushing have finished harvesting their ice.

J. A. McKenzie was home over Sunday from his work in Albany.

Arthur Harrison went to Bethel, Tuesday.

R. A. Grover visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Grover, Sunday.

WEST PARIS.
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ricker have returned from their wedding trip and are going to do light housekeeping in one large room in Ezekiah Farrar's house.

Mrs. Ricker is in Portland for a few days this week to pack up her things to move here.

Clara Berry has returned home for a few weeks. She has received much benefit so far from her treatment in Portland and expects to return again as soon as her physician requests her to.

There have been ten pupils chosen from the high school here who will take part in the coming prize speaking contest this term. Mrs. J. E. Wood will drill them again this year. This part of the school work, which was introduced last year by the principal, Miss D. Wall, excites considerable interest both in and out of school, and is an excellent training and addition to the school curriculum.

The State W. C. T. U., President, Mrs. Althea G. Quimby of North Turner, has been secured to speak at the next Union Temperance meeting, which comes on the 5th, Sunday evening of this month, and will be held in the Universalist church, East 30.

Thursday - Friday - Saturday, January 27-28-29

You ask us, "What is a One Cent Sale?"

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustration: The standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You buy a tube at this price and by paying 1c more or 2c you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices, and have sold you for years.

You ask us, "Can you afford to sell Merchandise at these Prices?"

Our answer is "We Cannot." This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1c. It costs money to get new customers and the loss taken on this sale will be well spent if the goods please you.
